1. PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This Cookie Policy has been prepared to inform users visiting www.ankorholding.com, operated by Ankor Holding Inc. (“Ankor Holding” or the “Company”), about cookies and similar technologies used on the website and to explain how users may manage their preferences regarding such technologies.

This Policy describes the technologies used for the operation of the website and the storage of user preferences, as well as analytics and third-party services activated based on the user’s preferences.

2. WHAT ARE COOKIES AND SIMILAR TECHNOLOGIES?

Cookies are small data files that may be stored on an internet browser or device when a website is visited.

In addition to cookies, websites may use similar mechanisms such as browser local storage (localStorage) and third-party internet technologies.

For the purposes of this Policy, the term “cookies and similar technologies” collectively refers to such technologies used within the website.

3. CATEGORIES OF TECHNOLOGIES USED

3.1. Necessary Technologies

These technologies are used for purposes such as enabling the website’s essential functions and storing visitors’ cookie preferences.

Within the website’s cookie preference mechanism, the browser’s localStorage functionality is used to remember the user’s preferences.

Since this technology is necessary for the preference management mechanism to operate, it is displayed as “Always active” in the cookie preference panel.

3.2. Analytics Technologies

Analytics technologies are used to understand how the website is used, measure visitor and usage statistics, and evaluate the performance of the website.

For this purpose, the Ankor Holding website uses Google Analytics / GA4.

Google Analytics is activated when the user permits the “Analytics” category in the cookie preference panel.

Google Analytics is not activated unless the user grants permission. If the user subsequently withdraws previously granted permission, the analytics service is managed in accordance with the user’s current preference.

3.3. Maps / Third-Party Technologies

Google Maps is used to display address, location and map content on the website.

Google Maps is a third-party service. Google Maps content and related third-party connections are loaded only after the user enables the “Maps / Third Party” category in the cookie preference panel.

Refusing this category does not prevent the general use of the website. However, map content provided through Google Maps may not be displayed.

4. EXPLICIT CONSENT AND MANAGEMENT OF COOKIE PREFERENCES

When a user first visits the website, a cookie preference panel is presented. Users may select one of the following options:

- Reject All
- Manage Preferences
- Accept All

When Manage Preferences is selected, the Analytics and Maps / Third Party categories may be enabled or disabled separately.

Necessary technologies may not be subject to user preference where they are required for the operation of the website and the preference management mechanism.

Under Turkish Personal Data Protection Law No. 6698, explicit consent means consent relating to a specific subject, based on information and expressed with free will.

Non-essential technologies requiring explicit consent are not activated unless the user makes an affirmative choice.

5. COOKIE AND TECHNOLOGY INVENTORY

Technology / Service	Provider	Category	Purpose	Use
ankorCookieConsentV2 (localStorage)	Ankor Holding	Necessary	To remember the user's cookie preferences	Always active
_ga	Google Analytics	Analytics	To assist with measurement of website usage and visits	Subject to Analytics permission
_ga_J0XQMVWR1S	Google Analytics	Analytics	To assist with storing GA4 measurement and session information	Subject to Analytics permission
Google Maps	Google	Maps / Third Party	To provide address, location and map content	Subject to Maps / Third Party permission
NID*	Google	Third Party	To store preferences and related information within Google services	When the relevant Google service is active
__Secure-STRP*	Google	Third Party	Third-party record that may be created in connection with Google services	When the relevant Google service is active
SEARCH_SAMESITE*	Google	Third Party	Third-party record that may be created in connection with Google services	When the relevant Google service is active

* Third-party services: The names, purposes and retention periods of cookies used by Google may change over time. Current information regarding third-party technologies may be reviewed through the relevant service provider's policies and documentation.

This inventory is reviewed when services or third-party technologies used on the website change.

6. STORAGE, MODIFICATION AND WITHDRAWAL OF PREFERENCES

The browser's local storage (localStorage) mechanism may be used to remember users' cookie preferences.

Users may review and modify their previously submitted preferences by using the "Change Cookie Preferences" option available on the website.

Permission previously granted for the Analytics or Maps / Third Party categories may subsequently be withdrawn.

After a new preference has been saved, the relevant services are managed in accordance with the user's current preference.

Users may also use their internet browser settings to view, block or delete cookies stored in the browser. Actions performed through browser settings operate independently of the website's cookie preference mechanism.

7. THIRD-PARTY SERVICES

Google Analytics and Google Maps used on the website are third-party services provided by Google.

Once the user grants permission for the relevant category, activation of these services may establish connections with Google's systems and data processing activities may take place within the scope of the relevant technologies.

The characteristics, cookie names, functions and retention periods of technologies used by third-party providers may be changed by the relevant provider.

Ankor Holding reviews the third-party services used on the website and the related cookie inventory when necessary.

8. INTERNATIONAL TRANSFERS OF PERSONAL DATA

The use of technologies provided by service providers located abroad, such as Google Analytics and Google Maps, may involve the transfer of personal data outside Türkiye.

Where personal data is transferred abroad, such transfers are carried out in accordance with Article 9 of Turkish Personal Data Protection Law No. 6698.

Depending on the relevant conditions and applicable legislation, international data transfers may be carried out on the basis of an adequacy decision, appropriate safeguards or, where the statutory requirements are met, exceptional transfer grounds. Standard contracts and binding corporate rules may be among the appropriate safeguard mechanisms.

International data transfers carried out by Ankor Holding in connection with Google services are managed in accordance with applicable legislation, taking into account the relevant services and data flows.

9. PROTECTION OF PERSONAL DATA

Where personal data is processed through cookies and similar technologies, such processing activities are carried out in accordance with applicable personal data protection legislation, particularly Turkish Personal Data Protection Law No. 6698.

The user's cookie preferences on the website are taken into consideration when activating relevant services for processing activities requiring explicit consent.

This Cookie Policy should be read together with Ankor Holding's other policies and privacy notices concerning the protection and processing of personal data.

10. RIGHTS OF THE DATA SUBJECT

Data subjects may exercise the rights granted to them regarding their personal data under Turkish Personal Data Protection Law No. 6698.

Requests within this scope may be submitted to Ankor Holding in accordance with the procedures and principles prescribed by applicable legislation.

Data subjects may also refer to the Data Subject Application Form published by Ankor Holding for further information regarding application methods.

11. CHANGES TO THIS POLICY

Ankor Holding may update this Cookie Policy in accordance with:

- Changes in applicable legislation
- Decisions and regulations of the Turkish Personal Data Protection Board
- Changes to technologies used on the website
- The introduction of new third-party services
- The removal of existing services

The current version of this Policy is published on www.ankorholding.com.
